

2003 JULY 13 - 17 TORONTO

empowering ideas

empowering ideas...

transforming leading edge thinking into practical solutions.

IEEE POWER ENGINEERING SOCIETY GENERAL MEETING JULY 13-17 2003 – PLAN TO ATTEND!

This year's Power Engineering Society General meeting, being held in Toronto, Canada, at the Sheraton Centre from July 13-17th, 2003, is one of the power industry's most significant and prestigious events.

HEAR FROM

Industry leaders including Courtney Pratt, President & CEO of Toronto Hydro Corporation, Jim Balsillie, Chairman & Co-CEO of RIM Ltd. and Paul Steece, 3M's Division Vice President, Electrical Products.

We have pulled out all the stops to offer you and your colleagues a once-in-a-lifetime package of bargains to make your stay in Toronto all that much more memorable.

You'll receive greatly reduced rates on the best theatre and sports tickets available, world-class restaurants and hundreds of free events and activities throughout the city.

ENJOY THESE FULL-DAY TUTORIALS

- Developments in Power Communications Systems
- Adding New Life to Legacy SCADA Systems
- Modern Heuristic Optimization Techniques with Applications to Power Systems
- The Protective Relay IED in the Automation World

PARTICIPATE IN THE FOLLOWING HALF-DAY TECHNICAL SESSIONS

- Power System Grounding Techniques
- Asset Management in a Power Utility
- End of Life for Power Transformers
- Diagnostics for Power Cables

PLUS MUCH MORE

- Full Day Techtorial: Power Systems Basics for Non-Technical Business Professionals
- Half Day Soft Skills Tutorial: Essential Communications for Engineers
- More than 500 papers, including panel papers and 200 poster papers

DON'T MISS THIS PREMIER EVENT!

REGISTER ON LINE www.ieee.org/pesgmtoronto2003.com

toronto hydro corporation

For more information see www.torontohydro.com or www.ieee.org/pesgmtoronto2003.com