

Introducing Canada Power

the Canadian power industry's newest conference and exhibition covering generation, transmission & distribution and renewable energy issues. Joining PennWell's leading lineup of global power events, Canada Power will attract more than 400 power professionals to discuss topics and issues ranging from deregulation to the challenges associated with the recent signing of the Kyoto Protocol. Featuring more than 40 exhibiting companies, Canada Power will showcase the industry's top products and services, providing valuable networking opportunities to meet with leading energy professionals.
